John Ruskin's home

A one-day practical, hands-on, workshop in portrait painting with portrait artist Sally Bamber. Your day will start with a welcome, introductions and an outline of the day's activities. You will be working with a model and the first task is to create a drawing of the model's head using charcoal and paper provided. There will be books and printouts available, to take a look at the diversity of styles and approaches from both history and from living artists. Preparing the oil palette (acrylics can be used if preferred bearing in mind that Sally works in oils). We will then begin to paint the portrait of the model. Before lunch we will look at the progress made. In the afternoon you will continue to paint from the model whilst Sally has one to one tuition with each student as you work. At 4pm we will look at the day's achievements. Sally has prepared an aide memoire of the day to take home. Sally's experience covers a decade of painting portraits with three major exhibitions of work in London, Oxford and in Cumbria. Sally has had a portrait in the Lake Artists Summer exhibition and in the Open up North exhibition. Sally has had portraits exhibited at both The Lakes Artists Society Summer show in Grasmere and Open Up North show in Kendal.

Please bring your own oil paints but all other materials will be provided and refreshments available throughout the day. Please bring a packed lunch (our in-house restaurant is also available on site for light lunches).

29 September, 18 October 2016 10.00am - 5.00pm

£65 per person

A one-day practical, hands-on, life drawing workshop with artist Sally Bamber. Your day will start with a welcome, introductions and an outline of the day's activities. You will be working with a nude model. Starting the day with short poses to loosen up, working mainly with charcoal then progressing to experimental mark-making in order to view the model form in light and shade, and consider how the drawing fills the paper. There will be books and printouts available to take a look at the diversity of styles and approaches from both history and from living artists. Before lunch we will look at the progress made. In the afternoon there will be a longer pose with a quiet long look, "the form swells from the inside" Delecroix. At 4.30pm we will look at the day's achievements. Sally has prepared an aide memoire of the day to take home. Sally's experience in life drawing started at the Chelsea School of Art, then as a member of the Hesketh Hubbard Art Society at the Mall Galleries and today in local and private life drawing sessions - life drawing is essential study for all those interested in figurative drawing.

All materials will be provided and refreshments available throughout the day. Please bring a packed lunch (our in-house restaurant is also available on site for light lunches).
